V. NEW BUSINESS

A. ACTION ITEM: BAE #19-02: Approval of 2020 OHA Legislative Package†

Chair Waihe'e turns it over to Ka Pouhana Sylvia Hussey.

Ka Pouhana Hussey: Good afternoon Trustees, I will call on our Public Policy Manager Jocelyn Doane, Chief Advocate Keola Lindsey and Senior Public Policy Advocate Wayne Tanaka to come to the table. Before we get into the details, we also wanted to Aloha Monica Morris; today is her last day with us as she is retiring.

Public Policy Manager Doane: Aloha yes, Monica has been with us for about 8 years and has been a staunch advocate for Education and has done so much work for the lāhui even before coming to OHA. I wanted to give her an opportunity to give her aloha as well.

Public Policy Advocate Morris: Aloha, it's been an honor working here. Working under Jocelyn has been phenomenal; she has been such a leader and strong advocate for our lāhui. What she loves to share is Kūlia i ka nu'u, not the pu'u – to strive for the summit, not the hill; so I will just take the strong mana'o that she shared with me. It's been a pleasure to work with her and Wayne and an honor coming to the BAE Committee during legislative session and I feel very proud that we can help to keep the trustees posted about what's happening at the legislature and at the same time I know that trustees do their due diligence and I'm going to miss that. It's been my honor, Mahalo nui loa.

Public Policy Manager Doane: Mahalo Monica. Trustees I know you've had a long-day so we'll get right into it. There are six measures in your packet today, so we'll get started. The legislative schedule has been updated since the last time we were here. We need to submit the legislative package a little earlier than usual this year; it's due by the 27th of December and session will open on January 15th.

Public Policy Manager Doane: There are six different measures in your packet; you have the actual language in them as well. The motion that we're going to entertain later would allow staff to make non-substantive edits, and edits to the preamble. So, we'll take any sort of mana'o that we get today and make changes between now and the time we submit them.

The very first measure is related to restoring Native Hawaiian expertise in Land Use and Resource Management. The goal here is incorporation of Hawaiian perspectives and expertise and recognition of Native Hawaiian rights in Land Use and Resource Management decisions. As the trustees know, many Board and Commission members of the State are required to attend a Native Hawaiian Law Training course that OHA puts on through our contractor Ka Huli Ao at the UH Law School; we do that twice a year. Each of these members that are required to attend are supposed to attend within a year of their appointment. We've noted that not all of them comply and in-particular the person who sits in the seat that OHA helped create on the Board of Land and Natural Resources (BLNR) for an expertise on Native Hawaiian Resource Management, has not complied, for example.

The first part of the bill will be to address the compliance with the Native Hawaiian law training course requiring an annual report that OHA and DLNR would work on together that would identify individuals that have not complied. It would prohibit those individuals from serving on a permitted interaction group or voting on matters, until they attend the course. It would require reconfirmation following the year of their deadline, if they still haven't attended a course. It would allow the votes of those individuals to be challenged and subject to nullification.

The second part of the bill is related to adjusting the Land Use Commission (LUC) and the BLNR composition so that almost half of the LUC and BLNR members would have to be appointed from a list of nominees submitted by OHA. This would be similar-to-the-way that the burial councils are currently selected. So, we would have an actual say as to who gets to be on these boards and commissions.

OHA-1 (Attachment A)

Restoring NH Expertise in Land Use & Resource Management

- Goal: Greater recognition and incorporation of Hawaiian perspectives, expertise, and rights in land use and resource management decision-making.
- Issues:
 - Certain board and commission members (BLNR, CWRM, LUC) must attend a NH Law and Public Trust training course w/in 1 year, but not all comply.
 - Although BLNR & LUC have 1 dedicated seat for a member with NH expertise, decisions do not consistently reflect an appropriate consideration of NH knowledge, concerns, and rights – which has contributed to substantial conflict, distrust, and legal action.

OHA-1 (Attachment A)

Restoring NH Expertise in Land Use & Resource Management(cont'd)

- For training course compliance:
 - Require an annual report by OHA & DLNR of all individuals who fail to meet the one-year training deadline under the law;
 - Prohibit individuals who fail to meet training requirement from servng on a PIG or voting on matters until they attend a training course; and
 - Require reconfirmation of untrained individuals from board/commission at the end of the regular legislative session following their deadline to attend a training;
 - Allow individual votes of untrained individual votes to be challenged and subject to nullification following a contested case
- For more meaningful NH perspectives:
 - ~ half of LUC & BLNR must be appointed from list of nominees submitted by OHA

Public Policy Manager Doane: The next measure is related to helping to reduce barriers of employment for formerly incarcerated or formerly convicted individuals to facilitate reentry. As we can all imagine it's very difficult for the formerly incarcerated and the formerly convicted to find stable, legitimate employment to support their families and reintegrate into society. This oftentimes leads to potentially illegitimate employment and different ways of generating revenue; and possibly recidivism. National studies have shown that criminal records have significant impact on employment opportunities even for minor and old convictions. The State of Hawai'i has been really progressive on this issue and was the very first jurisdiction to pass a law to limit what employers can inquire into and use with regards to criminal records.

Right now, employers can inquire into and use criminal convictions for up to ten years to discriminate against and make employment decisions. Ten years is a really, long time, and recidivism is most likely to occur in the first two-years after release. We're proposing to change the once progressive law to be a little more progressive to help facilitate reentry by modifying the law to allow employers looking at criminal convictions to only access five years of convictions for felonies, and three years for misdemeanors.

This however, doesn't alter the existing statutory authority that certain employers possess in looking into criminal histories. There are many exceptions for certain types of jobs – the two that come to mind are related to public safety jobs and jobs related to employment at public and private schools. This change wouldn't affect those authorities, those are particularly heightened and sensitive safety jobs. So, I want to make sure that you're all clear that we're not attempting to change those authorities. This is just for other employers like retail and restaurants, etc.

Public Policy Manager Doane: The third measure is related to Historic Preservation review. Historic Preservation laws provide processes by which the county, when they're issuing grading and construction related permits, can be vetted for potential impacts to iwi kupuna historical sites. The counties have a process; they look at certain triggers when they get these applications and then they forward the ones that they think should be forwarded over to SHPD. So, they can figure out whether there should be a negation or if there are potential impacts to iwi kupuna.

These processes include opportunities to attach conditions and other mitigation requirements. However, some landowners and/or contractors ignore these permitting requirements and begin construction before applying, and what that means is there's no opportunity for historic preservation review. So, there are no conditions or mitigation measures put into place. SHPD has stated numerous times in writing that they don't clearly investigate impacts to iwi kupuna or historic sites if the work has started before applying for a permit because I guess the idea in large part is that a lot of the evidence will be destroyed. This was the situation that came up on Moloka'i with the Dudoit 'Ohana. What this means is that landowners and contractors have a financial incentive to build and start construction first, then apply for the permit later, because SHPD has already said in writing that they're not going to investigate after the fact.

OHA-2 (Attachment B)

Addressing Employment Discrimination Against Former Pa'ahao

- Goal: Reduce barriers to employment for former pa'ahao and facilitate re-entry
- Issue:
 - It is difficult for former pa'ahao to find stable legitimate employment to support their families and reintegrate into society, which may lead to recidivism
 - Incarceration particularly burdens the NH community
 - National studies show criminal records have a significant impact on employment opportunities even for relatively minor and old conviction
 - The law currently allows employers to access and use 10-year criminal records to discriminate against former pa'ahao for employment decisions, which may be unreasonable
- Legislation: Limiting convictions that may be used in employment decisions
 - from 10 years to five years for felonies, and
 - from 10 years to three years for misdemeanors, except where employers are expressly permitted to inquire into criminal history (e.g. DOE – suitability to work with children, DPS – suits to dept, inmates, public)

OHA-3 (Attachment C)

Preventing Evasion of Historic Preservation Review & Other Violations

- Historic preservation laws provide a process by which county grading- and construction-related permit applications can be vetted for potential impacts to iwi kupuna and historical sites;
 - process includes opportunity to attach permit conditions & other mitigation measures
- Goal: Better protect iwi kupuna and historic/archaeological sites.
- Issue:
 - Some landowners and contractors ignore county permitting requirements before beginning construction
 - No permits means no HP review, no conditions or other mitigation measures
 - SHPD has stated in writing – they do not investigate impacts to iwi kupuna/historic sites for unpermitted grading or construction activities after-the-fact (e.g. destroyed evidence)
 - Admitted lack of enforcement – creates financial incentive to build first, apply for permits later

Public Policy Manager Doane: Our recommended solution to that is to increase maximum fines to disincentivize violations, including; unpermitted grading or construction activities that would otherwise trigger HP review, prohibit work or permit issuance for our property, unless and until SHPD does a site inspection. It would empower SHPD to do a Stop Work Order, which they don't have the explicit authority to do now.

It would hold the contractors and landowners jointly-liable for assessments and mitigation. It would establish a citizen complaint process and it would require posting of notice at worksites and finally it would expressly affirm that the existing historic preservation fund money can be used for enforcement activities. This is significant because SHPD has the most expertise in the area - if they're able to do the stop work order, it will make a world of difference.

Public Policy Manager Doane: We have two historic preservation measures in our package this year; the next one is a resolution. The goal here is to ensure that Historic Preservation rules amendments that SHPD is starting now address some of the longstanding issues that we oftentimes see when we're reviewing projects and, when our beneficiaries bring them to our attention. Currently, there are inconsistent and inadequate protection for iwi kupuna burial sites and historic sites and we're wanting to make sure that the rules SHPD starts do-in-fact address these issues. So, our attempted solution to do that is to try to get a statement from the legislature about what they want to see in the rules.

OHA-3 (Attachment C)

Preventing Evasion of Historic Preservation Review & Other Violations (cont'd)

Legislation:

- ▣ Increased maximum fines to disincentivize violations, incl unpermitted grading or construction activities that would otherwise trigger HP review;
- ▣ Prohibit, subject to significant fines, any further work or permit issuance for the subject property, unless and until a SHPD site inspection is done to look for evidence of potential impacts to iwi kupuna or historic sites, paid for by landowner;
- ▣ Hold landowners and contractors jointly liable for all assessment and mitigation costs associated with unpermitted activities;
- ▣ Establish a citizen complaint process and informational resources for citizens to document/report (anonymously, if necessary) impacts to iwi kupuna or historic sites;
- ▣ Require the posting of notice at worksites regarding iwi kupuna and historic preservation laws, and informing workers and the public of the citizen complaint process; and
- ▣ Expressly affirm that Historic Preservation Special Fund monies can be used for enforcement activities.

OHA-4 (Attachment D)

Protecting our Ancestors via SHPD Rulemaking (Resolution)

- ▣ Goal: Ensure long-awaited rule amendments address concerns relating to iwi and archaeological site protection
- ▣ Issue:
 - ▣ inconsistent and inadequate protection for iwi kupuna, burial sites, and historic sites
 - ▣ SHPD starting rule amendment process for the first time in two decades; however, uncertainty exists as to whether longstanding iwi and archaeological site protection issues will be addressed.

Public Policy Manager Doane: Basically, this is just one step in the process. We're going to have to be vigilant advocates during the actual development of the rules. Then we would be commenting on the rules and playing defense when the larger landowners or developers urge SHPD to go the opposite way.

Some of the ideas that we want to see addressed in the rules are specifically articulated in the resolution draft; including improving accountability for archaeologists, standardizing archaeological inventory, survey sampling and reporting, and creating a process to reclassify inadvertently discovered burials. Unless a burial is discovered through an AIS; burials that are found in the process of either exploratory testing or development, are considered inadvertently discovered even if they're really close to a large concentration of iwi that we already knew existed. Which means that those two sets of burials are treated differently, which doesn't make a lot of sense. Right now, there isn't a process to treat inadvertently discovered iwi the same; unless voluntarily.

The key difference is that previously identified burials/burial plans are determined by the burial councils, as opposed to SHPD. The resolution would also provide stronger and periodic-training to the Island Burial Councils. We would also recommend amending assessment requirements to reduce the likelihood of inadvertently discovered burials, so that there's more likelihood that we figure out where the burials are sooner. It would improve requirements for consistent consultations and require metes and bounds for recordation of preservation sites and create a process to document and address rule violations.

Public Policy Manager Doane: OHA-5 is related to Facilitating Practitioner Access on Private Lands; so, making it more likely that private and government landowners will grant access to practitioners who are asking permission. I'll let Wayne describe it in more detail.

Senior Public Policy Advocate Tanaka: As we've described before, practitioners have the right in Hawai'i to access less than fully-developed lands to engage in Traditional and Customary Native Hawaiian practices. The problem is landowners are hesitant to accommodate that kind of access because they're worried about being sued. What this bill would do is address that concern and take away that excuse by saying that landowners who allow practitioners to access their lands to engage in Traditional and Customary Practices will enjoy the same liability protections as landowners who allow recreation users onto their lands. It's based-off of existing statutes that provide that kind of liability protections for landowners and it would extend that to government landowners where the lands are not open to the general public.

OHA-4 (Attachment D)

Protecting our Ancestors via SHPD Rulemaking (Resolution)

- Legislation: Resolution urging SHPD rule amendments including, but not limited to, provisions that:
 - Improve accountability for archaeologists surveying development sites;
 - Standardizing AIS sampling and reporting;
 - Creating process to reclassify "inadvertently discovered" burials as "previously identified" burials (e.g. concentrations, exploratory testing vs AIS)
 - Providing stronger and periodic training to Island Burial Councils;
 - Amend assessment requirements to reduce the likelihood of "inadvertently discovered" burial sites during construction activities;
 - Improve requirements for consistent consultation with descendants and knowledgeable individuals throughout the historic preservation review process;
 - Require the metes and bounds recordation of preservation sites at the Bureau of Conveyances; and
 - Create a process to document and address rule violations by cultural resource contractors.

OHA-5 (Attachment E)

Facilitating Practitioner Access On Private Lands

- Goal: Encourage private landowner accommodation of cultural practitioners and facilitate the perpetuation of Native Hawaiian traditional and customary practices.
- Issue: Landowners are reluctant to provide access to cultural practitioners due to liability concerns; practitioners must risk conflict or citation/arrest to exercise their right to perpetuate their practices.
- Legislation:
 - Provide liability protection to landowners who expressly permit practitioners to access their lands, from legal claims arising from such access.

Public Policy Manager Doane: The final measure is a recommendation coming out of the Land Division. The WAM Chair was previously with the City Council and at that time he was very supportive of OHA to obtain funds to acquire Kūkaniloko. It's in Senator Dela Cruz's district and he's been really, supportive throughout this time. He's encouraged us over the years to apply for Capital Improvement Projects to get things going there and it looks like we're now ready to start getting some construction of facilities going.

OHA-6 (Attachment F)

Capital Improvement Project Budget Request for OHA's Wahiawā Lands

- Goal: Construction of a water storage and distribution system on OHA's $11-acre property in Wahiawā.
- Issue:
 - Water is integral to OHA's plans for Wahiawā; while OHA has secured water from ADC, need to build storage and delivery infrastructure (est. cost of $3 million).
 - To accommodate Conceptual Master Plan's commercial elements, OHA needs to demonstrate agricultural uses and amend Honolulu county held conservation easement
- Legislation: CIP Request for $3 million (raised through general obligation bonds) for construction of water storage and distribution system.
 - Note: OHA has committed funding in FY 20 ($200k) and 21 ($300k) for the planning and permitting of the system and is starting the procurement process.

Coordinated Advocacy

Sentencing Reform

- Goal: Address inhumane and costly overcrowding in our detention facilities and mitigate the disproportionate impacts caused by four decades of "tough-on-crime" sentencing policies (including mandatory minimum and enhanced sentencing laws).
- Legislation under consideration:
 - Reducing the length and severity of custodial sentences by redefining or reclassifying crimes, or repealing mandatory minimum sentences;
 - Reducing or eliminating sentencing enhancements for repeat offenders in certain classes of offenses (seeking support of/coordination with Senate Public Safety Committee staff);
 - Shortening lengths of incarceration by expanding opportunities to earn sentence credits (which shave off time in custody and advance parole eligibility timelines);
- Notes:
 - An ad-hoc group of judges, lawyers, community advocates, etc. will lead; OHA staff has been supporting and recommends further coordinated advocacy to support their work.
 - HCRBS Task Force explored best practices in effective incarceration, and this measure is consistent with recommendations related to transformation of Hawaii's system from a punitive correctional model to a rehabilitative one. Primary recommendation - reduce mass incarceration & impacts on NHs.
 - Native Hawaiian Justice Task Force also noted the impacts of inequitable sentencing and the need for comprehensive examination to address inequities.
